

Why Solahart?

Big Savings in your Energy Bills

By installing a Solahart, you'll be using the sun's free energy to heat your water, so you can reduce your hot water energy consumption more than 90%.

Reduced Greenhouse Gas Emissions

By replacing a conventional electric water heater with a Solahart you can reduce your CO<sub>2</sub> emissions by as much as 3 tonnes each year, that's like taking a 4 cylinder car off the road.

You Can Depend on Solahart

We've been developing and manufacturing solar water heaters in Australia for over 62 years and with over a million units sold worldwide, Solahart is the world's leading manufacturer.

Leader In Solar Since 1953

Innovating to Help The World!

Long before anyone had even heard of global warming and climate change, a pioneering plumbing supplies company based in Perth decided that the sun was the best power source available to heat water in Australian homes.

Solahart, known as SW Hart & Co. at the time had been in the plumbing business since 1901 and in 1953 we began to make solar hot water systems.

Solahart for Residential

Switching to a Solahart is one of the best things you can do to reduce your household energy consumption. And there's a model to suit every home, regardless of where you live.

You'll enjoy big savings on your energy bill and you'll be helping the environment.

Solahart for Commercial

Solahart has been at the forefront of adapting thermosiphon and heat pump systems for commercial use. Through years of experience, constant innovation and product development, we have built a reputation around the world for engineering and manufacturing high quality commercial solar water heating solutions.
